Testimonial

TEG International College

I am delighted to offer my strong and personal endorsement to this, the University of Sunderland's testimonial for TEG International College.

The University of Sunderland has been working with TEG International College since it first launched the Sunderland Foundation in Business and Computing programme over 14 years ago at Beijing Finance School. Following this the relationship continued to grow and 4 years later a generic Engineering degree programme was launched at their Middle Road campus in Singapore and was followed by Electrical and Electronic Engineering in 2003. In 2005, the partnership expanded further to include Vietnam. The first partnership to be established was in Hanoi with National Economics University. The number of programmes has continued to grow with students studying across Business, Computing and Engineering.

As part of the University's quality processes all Faculty members and student resources at TEG are approved by the University which also manages the admissions process of all students which ensures stringent admissions criteria, and the entry qualifications and quality of our TEG students. During 2010 TEG were subject to a University 6 yearly review process. The outcome of this robust quality process was the University panel giving full and unconditional approval for a further 6 years for TEG – University of Sunderland partnership.

The University is pleased and proud to support TEG International College's application for EduTrust Certification by the Singapore Council for Private Education (CPE). The quality of our courses operated with TEG is a very important part of the partnership success. Our pass rates and the significant number of our graduates with 1st class and 2nd Upper Honours degrees is particularly pleasing.

The relationship with TEG International is now one of the University's longest standing collaborations and is very highly valued. I am delighted to give it my strongest support and endorsement.
